

ROMA, heritage and ambition

Design Marco Piva

In the new Roma free-standing washbasin, designed for Kreoo by Marco Piva, natural marble meets the refined elegance of gold leaf. The bright lines of the contrasting material emphasize the washbasin's sculptural shape and unexpected textural combinations.

In Roma, marble expresses a heritage of elegance, the idea of refined and exclusive luxury that combines tradition and forward ambition.

Roma offers a unique aesthetic, a combination of harmony and highlight, shape and function. The lines rise from the ground to define the water container, evoking the theatricality of the ablution ritual.

In Roma, shapes of the past plunge into the future with a new expressive force.

Conceived as free-standing washbasin, but also available as countertop-supported vessel sink, Roma is presented in the evocative translucence of Onice Bianco (White Onyx), with gold leaf inserts.
